ROLLINS DAY BY DAY

Founders' week! Welcome Alumni, welcome founders, welcome everybody.

The Glee Club's radio concert went over big, especially Cappy Graham's solo and Louise Shinn's birthday speech.

We tried to attend the puppet show given by the Art classes at the Wyoming Hotel last Monday evening, but couldn't get in. No passes were given.

This columnist is slowly recovering from a severe case of writer's cramp after answering all those questions in chapel the other day.

They forgot to ask us whether or not we believed in simplified spelling and if we knew the President's middle name.

This column is considering conducting a private survey on those two points. Are the students really progressive? Do they really know the things of vital importance about Rollies?

Imagine a student back in his (or her) home town boasting Rollins to the skies before some friends and having one of them ask, as a point of information, "and what is the President's middle name?" The Rollins booster, so eloquent a moment before, falters, his face blanches, he is unable to answer—he does not know, and amid the jeers of his (or her) friends, slinks away—defeated.

The program will start promptly at eight-thirty in the Rollins Recreation Hall.

The plays to be presented are: "The Fourth Wall," by Marguerite Atterbury; "The Birthday of the Infanta," by Oscar Wilde; Bernard Shaw's "Poison, Passion and Petrification," and another of Shaw's entitled "The Man of Destiny."

PHI BETA KAPPA MEETS AT ROLLINS SATURDAY

Forty members of Phi Beta Kappa, oldest and most distinguished Greek letter fraternity in America, will gather for their second meeting of the year at eight o'clock, Saturday evening, February 23, at Rollins College. They will be addressed by Percy MacKaye, dramatist and poet, and by Charles F. Thwing, former national president of the Society. The meeting will be held in the Loring A. Chase Organ Room, Pinehurst Hall, with organ solos played by Dr. Helen W. Cole.

Phi Beta Kappa was founded in 1776 at William and Mary, Virginia. Election of undergraduates to membership is restricted to those who show the highest scholarship in their institution, united with qualities of leadership and personality. So carefully does the national organization restrict the granting of chapters that there is as yet in the state of Florida no chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, except the one now forming at Rollins College through the preliminary steps of the Central Florida Association. In three years time Rollins College will be entitled to apply for a chapter, provided the scholarship standards of the College have proved acceptable to the national organization.

Members already in Winter Park and Rollins College are: Percy MacKaye, Clinton Scollard, Fred Lewis Pattee, Irving Bacheller, Robert J. Sprague, Thomas P. Bailey, Edmund Moore, Dr. Helen W. Cole, Winslow S. Anderson, Mrs. Hila Knapp, Miss Rannie Baker, Sherwin Cody, Dr. Meyer, Willard Wattles and the Rt. Rev. Cameron Mann. For the size of its faculty, this is an unusually high proportion. Other members of the faculty are entitled by their scholarship to membership in the fraternity, and may be voted into membership as soon as a chapter here may definitely be established, and officially recognized by the national organization.

Officers are: President, Dean Winslow S. Anderson; vice-president, Professor Warren S. Gordis, Stetson University; secretary - treasurer, Professor Willard Wattles.

HUGE AUDIENCE TO ENJOY HISTORIC PAGEANT

The historic pageant, given for several years by the students of Rollins college, will again be presented tomorrow at the Brewer Estate, 3 p. m.

This pageant under the capable direction of Mrs. Gray, has drawn thousands from all parts of Florida, as well as from other states.

Slight changes made in the program for the afternoon serve to make it even more interesting than before and give it a professional note.

The plan is to present the history of Florida in four episodes: Realm of Legend; Home of the Red Man; Pride of the Nation; and Land of Beauty—pictures poetically interpreted as Dreams, Courage, Valor, and Beauty, Florida's gifts to the world. Music, dance, and pantomime tell the charming legends of the Cherokee Rose, Hanging Moss; and Mocking Bird. Tomahawks flash while Indian braves cry their war cry, Seminole maidens dance and sing and scouts and warriors return from the hunt and soon the flags of Spain, France, England and Colonial America, each in turn wave over fair and beautiful Florida, the land of flowers.

Music will be furnished by the Orlando Pythian Band and the Rollins College Glee Club.

Carl Dann Jr. Adds New Trophy to Collection

Carl Dann, Jr., Rollins freshman, is winner of the 1929 Yowell-Drew Country club golf trophy by his victory over H. K. Flower in the 36-hole final match last week. Carl was victorious, 2 and 1, in a closely contested battle.

This tournament was one of the most interesting for the members so far this year, and was featured by close scores in a number of the matches. Followers of the game are closely watching this youth as he has the makings of a great golfer. Rollins is proud of Carl and the student body and faculty are backing him to the limit.

State College Press Here February 21-22

The annual meeting of the Florida College Press Association is meeting here today and tomorrow.

Rollins has as guests representatives from Florida State College for Women, University of Miami, University of Florida, Southern college, Stetson University and several high schools.

The meeting opens Thursday, Feb. 21, with a business session at 2 o'clock in Lyman Hall with the president, Esther Boardman, in the chair and closes with the 35th anniversary luncheon of the Rollins Sandspur.

Tar Cleatsters Face Rough Schedule Coming Grid Season

The Rollins football team will face the hardest schedule in its history next season, with six of the strongest teams of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association on the card just announced by Coach "Jim" Bailey.

The schedule follows:

Oct. 13—South Georgia A and M. at Tifton, Ga.

Oct. 19—Stetson University at DeLand.

Oct. 26—University of Miami at Miami.

Nov. 2—University of Chattanooga at Chattanooga.

Nov. 9—Mercer University at Macon, Ga.

Nov. 23—Southern College at Winter Park.

Nov. 30—Howard College (pending).

Coach Bailey is very optimistic concerning the outlook for next year and believes the Tars will give a good account of themselves. The squad will be considerably strengthened by the acquisition of several outstanding players from this year's Baby Tars in addition to the upperclassmen who were ineligible this year, due to having just transferred to Rollins.

The Sandspur

Established in 1894 with the following editorial: "Unassuming yet mighty, sharp and pointed, well-rounded yet many-sided, assiduously tenacious, yet as gritty and energetic as its name implies, victorious in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive and extensive in circulation; all these will be found upon investigation to be among the extraordinary qualities of The Sandspur."

THE PRESIDENT'S DREAM

Over his desk in the college office, President Hamilton Holt has a large architect's sketch of his ideal Rollins. It is the Rollins of the future. It is "The President's Dream."

Since President Holt accepted the leadership of Rollins four years ago, he has seen the college grow, both in equipment and registration.

There has been added in those four years, the large recreation hall on the lake shore, with stage, and underground sprinkler system for the campus, a landscaped campus, and most important of all, a refitted, modernly equipped library. But we cannot list here all actual advancements made.

To anyone who has been here during this period, the changes are apparent—not pretentious, but apparent. And probably the most significant of these was our admittance into the Southern Association of Colleges.

Dr. Holt and the board of trustees are striving to make Rollins a best institution of higher education. It is their ambition to provide adequate facilities for all courses of training.

And only by the help of alumni and friends has this or can it be possible. It is up to every person connected with the college to give of themselves as those early pioneers struggled to found and build the college forty-six years ago tomorrow.

FLAMINGO RECOGNIZED BY INTERNATIONAL MAGAZINE

The Flamingo Magazine and its contributors have been highly complimented recently by a recognition from The Echo, an international quarterly review of British and American College literature published in Hamilton, New York.

The first issue of this new magazine will contain "Sonya," a story by Lillian Richmond published in the Flamingo last year, as well as a number of other contributions by Rollins writers.

A letter from the editors of the Echo was received by Mr. Grover requesting material from the Rollins literary magazine. The letter opened as follows:

"By a happy accident we ran across an issue of the January, 1928, Flamingo. It certainly contains rich literary material."

This recognition of the Flamingo by an international magazine seems further proof of its excellence in the world of undergraduate literary publications. Watch for the next Flamingo! It will soon be out!

POETRY CLASS TO PUBLISH VOLUME OF ROLLINS VERSE

Plans are being made for the publication of a book of verse composed by the members of Mrs. Scollard's poetry seminar classes for 1928 and 1929.

It is expected that this volume will contain many poems which have been printed in the Flamingo as well as a number which have had

ESSAY CONTEST FINALS TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock state winners of the Irving Bachel-ler Essay contest will compete in the finals, delivering their essays from memory at the author's estate, "Gate O' The Isles." Dr. Albert Shaw, editor of Review of Reviews, will preside.

Orlando, Dade City, Delray Beach, and Hillsboro high schools are represented by students who will compete in the finals. Winning essays were chosen by a reading committee elected several weeks ago by members of the general contest committee.

Twenty-six high school students representing 19 high schools of the state entered essays in the 1929 contest. The 26 students having essays entered in this year's contest gained that privilege by winning out in elimination contests conducted within the schools represented.

Mr. Bacheller will present his gift of two gold medals to the boy and girl whose essays win first places for beauty and originality of expression. Two other first prizes consisting of two ten-dollar gold pieces will be given to the boy and girl whose essays are most accurate historically. The gold pieces are the gift of the Florida Historical society and will be presented by Mr. A. J. Hanna.

Subjects for the 1929 Bacheller Essay contest were: "The Conquistadores of Florida: 1513-1561;" "France vs. Spain in Florida: 1562-1574"; and "Florida, a Spanish Colony: 1574-1763."

Three of the four winning essays to be given are on "The Conquistadores of Florida." They are by Thelma Baker, of Orlando High school; Pryle Dillingham, of Delray High school; and Laura Bell Fisher, of Hillsboro High school. The other winning essay is on "French vs. Spain in Florida" by Donald Jaeger, of Dade City High school.

Last year's gold medals were won by Kenneth Curry, who is a freshman at Rollins and by Ruthjeanne Bellamy who also won the medal in the 1927 contest and subsequently won a scholarship to Columbia University. Both were students of Orlando High school. Chester R. Yates of Plant City and Nellie Kennedy, of Brooksville received gold pieces as prizes in the contest of 1928.

Of remarkable note is the fact that Orlando has won in the essay contest for four consecutive years during which Miss Eoline Everett has been head of the English department and instructor of journalism there.

Since 1920 the Irving Bacheller essay contest has been conducted annually under the auspices of Rollins College. Mr. Bacheller's purpose in establishing the contest was to stimulate greater interest among Florida high students, in good English and in present-day problems. Since 1926 all subjects have been chosen from fields of Florida History.

ROLLINS ART CLUB GIVES PUPPET SHOW

The Rollins Art club successfully presented two one-act plays in their puppet theatre last Monday evening at the Hotel Wyoming in Orlando. The plays given were "Will O' The Wisp" and "Three Wishes", both portraying the life of Irish peasants.

Under the skillful direction of Mrs. Newby the puppets were operated by Mrs. Eastman, Mrs. Bower, Louis Shinn, Ann Overstreet, Jerry Trail and Billie Chapman. Taking the parts of the characters were Vivian Mousselet, Billie Chapman, Jerry Trail, Myra Thomas, Helen Foley and Russ L. Fuller. The stage was managed by Harry Marshall and Russ Fuller.

The Rollins Art club is a new organization on the campus affiliated with the Southern Art Association. Harry Marshall is president, Harrison Cobb, vice-president; Sarah Dickinson, secretary and Barney Barnes, treasurer.

One of the first resolutions to be adopted by the club was to increase the facilities of the studio. In order to obtain funds for this purpose the puppet show was planned. Its enthusiastic reception greatly encouraged the club. Other presentations are under consideration for the near future.

REV. DR. NORWOOD GIVES UNION SERVICE SUNDAY By WILLARD WATTLES

An event of chief importance during Founders Week will be the sermon, Sunday evening, Feb. 24, at the union service in Recreation Hall, given by the Rev. Dr. Robert Norwood, rector of St. Bartholomew's church, New York City. Dr. Norwood, a Canadian by birth but now a naturalized American citizen, is regarded throughout the United States, Canada, and England, as one of the leading liberal clergymen of his denomination.

Men particularly will find in Robert Norwood a vigorous, open-air sailor of Nova Scotia sailing-boats, a fisherman, a story-teller, a hearty comrade and friend, but more than this, a priest of God who knows exactly His Father's business, and who makes his service a living communion of faith and reality. During Dr. Norwood's years in the church of St. Paul's, Overbrook, Penn., men and women, young and old, came to hear him from every denomination in the city of Philadelphia.

Robert Norwood is an author and poet, member of the Players Club, New York, and pastor of one of the wealthiest churches of New York, a church which has distinguished itself for its social service and charitable work and for the liberality and Christian integrity of its religious doctrine.

Dr. Norwood, who has several friends among members of the Rollins faculty, will be accompanied on his visit by Mrs. Norwood. His coming is a rich opportunity for all students and citizens interested in the religion of the Christ, particularly as it was interpreted by those of the First and Second centuries who were closest to the Great Redeemer.

ROLLINS DEBATES WITH MIAMI HERE THURSDAY

The first intercollegiate debate of the year will be held next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Congregational church, when the University of Miami and Rollins teams will argue the question, "Resolved that the jury system should be abolished."

The University of Miami will contend for the affirmative side of the question and Rollins is to uphold the negative. This debate will take the place of this week's regular Tuesday Evening Lecture.

Speakers for Rollins are Charlotte Steinhans, Marian Morrow and Asa Jennings. Bob Sprague is the alternate. Members of the University squad, three men and two women, accompanied by their coach, Professor Close, are expected to arrive here Wednesday afternoon. The names of those who will talk have not yet been announced.

COLLEGE GLEE CLUB GETS NUMEROUS ENGAGEMENTS

The Rollins Glee Club, under the able direction of Clarence C. Nice has been giving some very creditable performances. The enthusiastic reception accorded the three programs given last week are an excellent indication as to the quality of work presented. Tomorrow a carefully chosen program will be given at "Gate O' The Isles," the Irving Bacheller estate, in conjunction with the meeting sponsored by the Florida Historical society.

Friday afternoon a group of numbers will be sung at the Brewer Estate during intervals of the Pageant. The near future promises a number of engagements that will call forth the best efforts of the Rollins singers.

KID OSCEOLA COMES BACK; CONSULTS WITH PREXY

"Howdy, Ham!" Even in so decorumless a fashion was Dr. Hamilton Holt, the distinguished prexy of Rollins college awakened from a day dream of the future, in which he visualized himself turning away University of Chicago students for not coming from a school with a standing high enough to admit them to Rollins.

"Huh, why hello, Ossie," answered the prexy. "It's been years since I've seen you, hasn't it?"

For those who may be interested in know the identity of this unexpected guest, allow me to state that it was none other than Chief Osceola, who formerly held the Yale ping-pong doubles champion with Dr. Holt, and who afterwards in his wandering got himself elected head of a tribe of Indians who call themselves Seminoles. But to go on.

"You bet it has, Ham, old chap, and I can still remember the last time we played ping-pong together. Remember we beat Nat Hawthorne and Hank Longfellow of Bowdoin in the finals of the intercollegiate that year? Boy, that was one tough match, wasn't it, kid!"

At this stage the prexy beamed, and for a moment his mind drifted back to the good old days of long-ago. Finally he roused himself from his reverie, and asked, "But, Ossie, do tell me why I am so unexpectedly honored by this visit?"

For a moment Ossie's face clouded with a mixed expression of hatred and remorse. Then he answered, "Well, it's like this, Hammie, you remember in the college days I used to have quite a weakness for firewater. Well, we were playing the Cherokees in the inter-redskin ping-pong tournament finals. I was playing with my assistant chief, One Overgrown Joe. Well, anyway I'd been hitting the bottle pretty regularly for about two weeks straight, and the night before the big match I was out on a party at "Uncle Tom's Cabin," with Harriet Beecher Stowe. Remember her, that smooth babe from Wellesley — I had her down for the Prom one year. The next day we played the Cherokees, and I must admit that I was still "right on the crest of the wave." They took us over in straight sets, and I didn't hit a ball in the court the whole match. It was really a disgraceful exhibition for one of my known ability and Overgrown Joe was sore at me, as were the rest of the lads from the tribe. In fact, they got so steamed up about it that they deposed me as chief, and were going to cut me up in pieces convenient for the diet of the tribe's pet alligators. Luckily I escaped, and after suffering many hardships I reached Winter Park early this morning. I've just come over from the Waffle Shop, where a very kind gentleman, I believe his name was Chet, and who claims to be one of your students, fixed me up with the first meal I had had in two days."

"But, how did you know I was here at Rollins?" inquired the prexy.

"Why due entirely to your famed conference plan, old man. We happened to run across an article about it in College Humor at one of our weekly literary tribe meetings, and I'd been wanting to have a talk with you about it ever since."

"Fine," said Hamilton, "Well here's the dope, Ossie. You see I've decided the students don't get enough sleep any more. I've put in a system whereby the instructors lectures for two hours instead of one. You remember, of course, how it was at Yale; we were never able to get enough sleep in just a one-hour class, so I'd always planned that if ever I had a chance I'd try to remedy that situation. Then I've tried to get just as many dull professors as possible because you remember how much easier they made it for us to get to sleep. I've made an extensive tour of the colleges throughout the country and I've noticed the run-down condition of most of the students, due I believe almost entirely to lack of sleep. I aim to promote the social life of this institution, and as I know the undergraduates can't get enough sleep during the hours usually devoted to that practice, I've decided to give them two instead of one hour periods of rest. Now tell me, what do you think of such a system?"

Osceola was stunned. When he recovered he said, "Ham, you're a marvel! How anyone could show such foresight is beyond me. Now take me for example. I've been out of college now for well onto a hundred years, but during that time I've been getting less and less sleep. Right now, after all I've suffered, I'm in a run-down condition. What I need is sleep; enter me as a freshman in this college of yours."

"Great!" cried the prexy slapping him between the shoulder blades, and arm in arm they marched out of the office, and up the stairs to the Dean's office where they proceeded to pick out the six least interesting courses in the curriculum.

BOOKS CLASS HEARS MIAMI PROFESSOR

Mr. Grover's class in Books met in Knowles Hall Monday afternoon, February 18, to hear Mr. Rufus Steele of the University of Miami. Mr. Steele, who has been editor of the San Francisco Call, and who is a personal friend of Herbert Hoover and of Lindbergh, is now a special lecturer at the University of Miami on magazine feature writing.

His address before the Books class was on the subject of future relations between the United States and South America in view of Mr. Hoover's recent visit there.

Changing Horses

AT the portals of our large cities—New York, Baltimore, Detroit, and soon Cleveland—a semaphore halts a luxurious flyer drawn by a puffing steam engine. A simple switching maneuver, and electricity takes charge. A giant electric locomotive, quickly under way, glides silently into the home stretch with its long string of Pullmans.

Like a thoroughbred it makes the run—tirelessly. Passengers alight in a clean terminal—clean because there is no smoke or soot.

Another milestone in transportation—another event in the life of the iron horse!

Civilization is progressing, with electricity in the van. How far this advance will take us, is a problem for our future leaders. It is for them to develop and utilize new applications of electricity—the force that is pointing the way over uncharted courses, not only in railroading, but in every phase of progress.

The G-E monogram is found on large electric locomotives and on MAZDA lamps, electric vacuum cleaners, and a multitude of other appliances which serve us all. It is the mark of an organization that is dedicated to the cause of electrical progress.

WE HAVE WITH US—SENIORS

The San Francisco earthquake of 1906 was no greater disaster to San Francisco than the birth, in that year, of a certain baby was disastrous to Rollins College. The baby born July 25 in Lincoln, Nebraska, was christened Robert. The parents of Robert allowed him to assume the family name of Burhans.

The Burhans child was a precocious baby and at the age of six months uttered his first words, "I'll let that go until tomorrow."

Nineteen years later we find the Burhans youth, now a stalwart son of the west, enrolling in our own Rollins College. He came with intentions of entering the ministry at graduation, but, as he explains, he has been at Rollins two years and now has other ambitions.

Bob has made a fine record in his sophomore year he was class president and vice-president of the Y. M. C. A. The following year he became president of the latter organization and a star of the Little Theatre Workshop. As a senior Bob has continued to hold the esteem of his classmates by his leadership as president of the student body. His Theta Kappa Nu brothers honored him with the office of Archon of their chapter.

The service Bob has given to the college does not stop here. Through three lean years he has taken his knocks on the football field and emerged with as many letters. When a sophomore he also won his letter in basketball.

In spite of his other activities Burhans has an excellent record for scholarship. His school work has been well above the average and his conduct equally respectable. Never failing good humor is a characteristic which has carried him far.

We predict the best for this boy of the wild west who once seemed to hear the call of the ministry.

NOTED PLAYWRITE HEARD IN ASSEMBLY FIRST TIME

Percy MacKaye, noted playwrite and poet, who is a special instructor at Rollins during the winter term, made his first appearance on an assembly program Thursday when he read his poem on Edison.

The poem not only praises Edison as a genius of the scientific laboratory, but also bespeaks the beauty of the inventor's soul, his friendly spirit, and life of service, recounting his inventions.

Mr. MacKaye related the friendship of Mr. Edison with his father, Steel MacKaye, who invented many devices for the theatre and built in New York the Lyceum, the first electric-lighted theatre in the world. Lighting facilities were installed by Edison himself.

Mr. MacKaye said he has been invited to express the meaning of Edison's extraordinary life when the inventor's old friends presented him with his statue on his seventy-fifth birthday. They had much difficulty in persuading Edison to leave his laboratory for dinner and just had time to set up the statue before his return.

"Hello, Ed! Well! How'd you get here? By parcel post?" Those were Edison's first words upon his return to the laboratory, according to Mr. MacKaye.

Mr. MacKaye afterward read his poem in Carnegie Hall, New York, and was awarded a gold medal.

SENIOR CLASS ATTEMPTS TO STANDARDIZE RING

It has long been a campus dream to have a standardized Rollins class ring. Several unsuccessful attempts have been made. The class of 1929 has taken every care in having a ring designed which would embody all the features which a Rollins ring should have.

The senior ring committee has received samples of the rings and will place them on exhibition in the trophy case in Carnegie Hall. All students are requested to examine these rings carefully. At the next meeting of the Student Association a vote will be taken to make this ring standard.

The senior committee with Rush L. Fuller as chairman, bring this ring before the student body with confidence that it will meet approval. The senior class unanimously chose this design from three offered by the committee. The vote will be taken in student meeting, March 1, 1929.

THE ROLLINS SWIMMING COURSE

Mr. Cartwright, head of the campus work is happy to announce that our swimming course is ready for use. Both the docks have been repaired and new high diving towers have been constructed. These new towers excell any previous towers built here. The highest one is thirty-two feet from the dock.

The course has been cleaned and is ready for the high school meet to be held the latter part of April.

MRS. ALICE HEGAN RICE GIVES COURSE IN LIVING

A new course has been created at Rollins by Mrs. Alice Hegan Rice. It has the stimulating name — the study of the Technique of Life, and is being given to a selected group of girls.

This class will meet each Thursday afternoon for four consecutive weeks at Dr. Holt's where an interchange of ideas and ideals will enable each girl to discover her true philosophy of life and thus aid her associates.

The girls who are being admitted to the secret of living a la Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch are: Frances Doggett, Virginia Wilder, Clementine Hall, Helen Porter, Ruby Quick, Myra Thomas, Ruth Cole, and Stella Weston.

ROLLINS ART STUDENTS ENTER POSTER CONTEST

Art students are working hard to finish their posters on Florida for coming contests. The American Federation of Arts in Tampa offers a prize of $100, while the Orlando Fair will give a prize of $25 to the best poster shown at the exposition.

The following students are completing their posters advertising Florida: Jerry Traill, Janet Cadman, Elizabeth Bower, Mary Race, Sarah Dickinson, Harrison Cobb, Harry Tracy and Albert Menton.

Y. W. TO HOLD

POETRY HOUR

Dorothy Emerson will be in charge of the Y. W. C. A. meeting next Sunday evening, February 24. A Poetry Hour will be held at that time and each girl attending is requested to bring with her a favorite bit of verse.

Everyone come out and support the Poetry Hour with the well-known Rollins literary spirit.

COMMODORE BASSETT JOINS COLOMBIAN NAVY

Commodore E. Watson Bassett leaves for South America next week to take charge of the Colombian navy. He has been heartily recommended by President Holt and others because of the skipperish work he has done in connection with the Rollins Yacht club. First Mate Harris has automatically and in other ways become commodore, and Chef Cook has been raised from the galley to the position deserted by the venerable mate.

Ex-commodore Bassett reports from New York that he has discovered a good ten-foot anchor but feels that as it could be used only to hold down the conference plan on Gymn — or such, he is leaving the good anchor in its present resting place.

Flagship Vestris was seriously damaged in the last gale of the season. The gaff was split, the carrier carried off and 11-10ths of the rope blown overboard. The captain is still heroically waiting to go down with the gallant ship. It may be necessary for aforesaid captain to swim to aforementioned ship and surface dive to it in order not to wreck the good old custom—Spanish or what have you?

Mrs. Grey is very desirous of having George Washington flit across Lake Osceola (to give the crowd a treat at the pageant) in the Vestris, but owing to the fact that it requires a gale to move the good ship and on account of the brine in ships in such a gale, it is thought best to let George swim over in the first place. However, he would probably be ready for any emergency, not to mention being well poised and all that.

The proud old flag of the club was raised over the Vestris with all fitting honors on Tuesday. The creation is a paddle and a coffee can (for bailing) on a background of softest black and sapphire. Owing to the heavy rains of the past week, it is now entirely white.

However, the fine old spirit of Rollins Yacht club is undampened and the members continue to carol "Holy, Holy, Holy" in the most confiding and salty manner imaginable.

"Did you ever take chloroform?"
"No, who teaches it?"

Would you wear an apron to a
"Thé Dansant"?

The thought is amusing, horrifying, laughable or ludicrous, yet it is an apt analogy for what is thoughtlessly going on in the fine old art of writing letters. People are writing letters of high social importance on cheap, commonplace paper; letters of business import on folded sheets of various hues. We are offering especially attractive and appropriate selections of modern writing paper, suggesting the three kinds that etiquette demands should be in every home: Crane's for the very best; Eaton's Highland Linen for everyday correspondence; Eaton's Deckle Vellum, a flat sheet for the man. Come to us for the latest and the best.

YEARLINGS THROW W. P. H. S. IN FINAL GAME

In a slow game the Winter Park High school basketball team gave the Baby Tars a real scare.

With a second defeat by the high school team staring them in the face, the collegians found themselves in the last three minutes of play and in this rally displayed their former fighting spirit.

Wallace and Gee played stellar ball for Rollins.

The score: Rollins 21, W. P. H. S. 19.

W. A. A. PROVES ACTIVE ORGANIZATION AT ROLLINS

The Women's Athletic Association at Rollins is an active organization which fosters the following sports: swimming, tennis, basketball, volleyball, hockey, archery, canoeing, and hiking.

Squad, class, and odd-even games are played with points counting towards the four major awards. The three term awards are given in the fall to basketball, winter hockey, spring swimming.

Social events like the Kid Party, annual formal banquet, and dinner hikes are held through the year. The association has an executive board, composed of each sport head, the officers, and physical education director as the governing body.

COLLEGE TENNIS TOURNEY UNCOVERS NEW MATERIAL

Potential tennis stars got down to business in the college net tourney that commenced this week, with the result that all the first round, and most of the second round matches were finished, as this article goes to press.

Although little was known of the ability of most of the contestants almost all the matches turned out as expected. The major upset was provided by Siegel, the German exchange student, who showed unexpected ability in eliminating John Ostland, who was looked upon as one of the best bets for the title. Siegel triumphed after winning an uphill fight, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Some of the first round matches were very hard fought, chief of these being Miller's defeat of Bilta, 0-6, 8-6, 7-5; Minster's victory over Ewing, 7-5, 3-6, 10-8; Holt's win over Doggett, 10-8, 6-4; and Pepper's triumph over Cockrell, 6-4, 7-5.

Judging from the results so far, one of the best matches of the tournament should result when Siegel clashes with Moody. Judging from their play in the first round they appear to be the cream of the tourney, and barring upsets, a great battle should result in their meeting.

VARSITY AND YEARLINGS TAKE UP BASEBALL

Coaches Baily and Berry are hard at it arranging a baseball schedule for the Varsity and freshman teams. These teams will be the first to represent Rollins on the diamond in many years.

The coaching staff is working on games with the University of Florida, Stetson university, University of Miami and Southern College. Twenty-seven men have signed Varsity papers for Coach Bailey and fifteen freshman have given themselves over to Coach Berry.

Equipment has been ordered for the diamond luminaries and practise will begin shortly after the Founders Week program.

CAMPUS BALL CHAMPS CHALLENGE FACULTY

Tuesday, the Juniors will meet the faculty, who last year won the faculty-student title, by defeating seniors. If Pickard is still unable to pitch there has been some talk of turning over the hurling assignment to Annie Overstreet of Cloverleaf. (The juniors have always been known for their altruistic spirit.) However that has not been definitely decided.

The juniors are the newly crowned baseball champions of the school. After having previously conquered the seniors and freshmen, the junior narrowly escaped defeat at the hands of the down-trodden sophomores. Only a great rally by the third year men staved off defeat.

Going to bat in the last inning four runs in arrears, the juniors put on a final rally, scoring five times and enabling them to eke out a 16-15 victory.

Although the sophomores played steady ball until the fatal last inning, the absence of R. Pickard, the junior star hurdler who was ill with the flu, made a great deal of difference to the newly-crowned champs.

ROLLINS TO HAVE MOVIES; NEW YORK IS DONOR

Through the generosity of Judge H. G. Ward of New York City, motion pictures for Rollins have been made possible. First showings of pictures will be held in the near future, according to E. T. Brown, college treasurer, who said that films to be shown would be selected by a committee appointed by President Holt.

Delivery of a Super-DeVry projecting machine has been made. The machine, which with several extra devices is valued at approximately $500, was selected after a demonstration before several members of the faculty and a group of interested students three weeks ago.

Educational films, such as those made by Henry Ford and General Electric, will usually be shown in the auditorium of Knowles Hall. Pictures will also be shown in the class rooms, as the projector purchased is portable. Pictures may be shown in daytime as the auditorium and class rooms can be darkened.

The college will use the machine set for standard films purely as an education adjunct, according to Mr. Brown, who said the new feature would be of especial benefit to classes study economics, history, and science.

Harrison Cobb has been named operator of the machine.

THE PRINTER'S TOWEL

When I think of the towel,
The old-fashioned towel,
That used to hang up by the printing house door,
I think that nobody,
In these days of shoddy,
Can hammer out iron to wear as it wore.
The tramp who abused it,
The devil who used it,
The comp, who got at it when these two were gone,
The make-up and foreman,
The editor, poor man,
Each rubbed some grime off for the heap they put on.
In, over, and under,
'Twas blacker than thunder;
'Twas harder than poverty, rougher than sin.
From the roller suspended,
It never was bended,
And it flapped on the wall like a banner of tin.
It grew thicker and rougher,
And harder and tougher,
And daily put on a more inkier hue;
'Till one windy morning,
Without any warning,
It fell on the floor and was broken in two.

K. E. KOMMENTS

We are delighted to have Mrs. Irving Bacheller, fraternity mother, in Winter Park with us again.

Myra left us Sunday to visit some friends at Daytona Beach.

"Miss Green" continued to dispense knowledge at the Winter Park high school. Evelyn has been substituting for about two weeks now.

Aurora and Pet spent the week-end in Tampa.

Six of us gave Pauline's new Ford some beneficial exercise Monday morning.

SIGMA PHI SORORITY

Sigma Phi welcomes all the alumni.

The pledges entertained the members with a dinner at the Latch String on Valentines Day. The table was U-shaped and decorated with flowers and candles. Favors and verses to the different guests were at each place.

Louise Holland and Glad Wilkinson visited us this week-end. Annabeth Wilson is here to spend a whole week and we are expecting several others of our alumnae in a day or two.

We congratulate Kay Hosmer and Iverne Galloway on winning the foreign scholarships. Kay is to go to France and Iverne to Switzerland.

The Sigma Phi sorority wishes to announce as members: Virginia Wilder, Anita Cross, Alice Burdett, Clementine Hall, Lucile Le Roy, Gwendolyn Bartholomew, Frances Porter, Miriam Sprague, Jane Mathewson, and Iverne Galloway.

GAMMA PHI BETA

Alpha Mu of Gamma Phi Beta takes great pleasure in announcing Alice Kretsinger of Winter Park, and Grace Range of Belvedere, Illinois, as pledges.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hilliard of Fort Myers announce the birth of a daughter, Mary Ann Hilliard, on February 9, 1929. Mrs. Hilliard will be remembered as Helen "Westy" Westfall, a member of Phi Omega.

Freda Kuebler entertained the members and pledges with a bridge at the chapter house Thursday night. The room was decorated with red flowers and tiny hearts carrying out the Valentine effect. Cream and cake were served just in time to let the pledges dash home in time for light flash.

Lucille stopped in for a two-day visit on her way to Scranton. We consider those Italian kids of Scranton just too lucky for words to have Lu to wash their faces for them.

Grace Ranger of Belvedere is the latest addition to the household. Being a pledge now, she says that living the house with the members isn't all that it is cracked up to be.

Boots entertained the new pledges at a buffet dinner at her home, Sunday night. Mrs. Race, Mrs. Newby and Miss Moore were invited to be present.

Harriet Van Dame spent the week-end and the part that comes just before in Sarasota. She and Glad Morton report a whooping good time.

The old gang had dinner at the Rendezvous Saturday night. Those who went along were: Jinks Hughes, Lu Pipkorn, Estelle Pipkorn, Harriet Pipkorn, Martha Schenck, Freda Kuebler, Helen Morrow, Grace Ranger and Murph Race.

Among the old members that we expect back for Founder Week are: Ruth Amy Sebring, Grace Ranger, Marcia Converse Bower, Lucille Waters, Freda Kuebler, Mary Shepherd, Katherine Adams, Florence McKay, and Marion McCutcheon.

ALPHA OMEGA ANTICS

Kitty spent Saturday and Sunday in Orlando with Dot and Vi. The three were joined by Hazel Coley on a trip to camp for Sunday dinner and did not finish eating until they reached home that night.

Flora had to go home last week because of illness, but we hope she will be back soon and feeling fine.

Of course, Ginnie went home for the week-end.

Audrey has become an expert photographer. Saturday found Audrey chasing around in search of subjects. We are afraid Mr. Eastman is giving her a commission for every ten snap-shots she takes. It really is not improbable since Audrey comes from Rochester, N. Y., the kodak town.

We are all losing weight. Greek letter tests, pledge courts, and benefit bridges are the reasons.

Lib Hury seems to be quite "modiste." With the help of Cile and Soule, she made a dress, which undoubtedly resembles a Patou model.

Mary V. Spent the week-end in St. Petersburg as the guest of Eleanor Blish.

LAKESIDE RIPPLES

On Feb. 14th fond parents and friends broke over and sent up Valentines, telegrams and food. The next excuse for a holiday is St. Patrick's Day. Here's hoping we fare as well.

Having autographed numerous fraternity paddles we hereby wish to express in all seriousness our sympathy for the victims. We earnestly hope the results will not be fatal to either the paddles or the boys.

Miss Perkins spent a pleasant week-end in Arcadia.

Jo and Bode motored with friends Saturday to Dayton and St. Augustine.

Mary V. spent the week-end in St. Pete as the guest of Eleanor Blish.

Sara Huey and Ethel Hahn motored to Miami with Mr. and Mrs. Huey, Friday. They spent the week-end with Ethel parents.

Mr. Bingham has changed his name. In a local newspaper his distinguished appellation was substituted by the very material name, Mr. Gingham. We are alarmed for fear in the next issue he should be referred to as Sylvester Calico.

CLOVERLEAF CAUSERIE

Really, is such gloom-chasers as Boots Weston, Phil Walters and the Chase Hall Carousers hadn't dropped in and pepped things up a bit, we would have perished in the ennui. Thanks to the afore-said life-saving squad for their timely intervention.

We can't help wondering what happens on the third floor Saturday that caused part of the ceiling below to crash with many an unmuffled thud. Perhaps some new dance such as the "Rollins Roll" was in the throes of creation.

Our renowned but under-nourished New York alley cat has been adopted. (Continued on page 8)

THETA KAPPA NU NOTES

We are expecting several of the old guard to be with us for Founder's Week. Paul Hilliard, "Unk" Starnes, "Red" Winderweede, Wallace Champneys and Fred Keiser palm to come home for the celebration.

D. B. McKay has already arrived and is working with the Little Theater troupe.

Jones and Abbott continue their attempt to develop their dramatic ability at the expense of the brothers. Enough is enough and too much calls for bloodshed.

The "pooch" forgot his pledge button when hurrying to class Monday and consequently is not permitted to sleep with brother Warner for two weeks. Humiliation indeed.

We had the honor of a visit by Professor Weinberg recently. Prof. found two boys studying and still refuses to believe he wasn't framed.

Congratulations and best wishes to "Pinky" Zoller, Donald White, Iverne Galloway, Katherine Hosmer and Phil Cummings. These Rollins students who received the foreign fellowships are worthy and wholly deserving of their selection.

KAPPA ALPHA

Welcome Old Grads!

The chapter is eagerly looking forward to the arrival of Rex Beach, Fred Stone and Fritz Frank. These distinguished men are to be our house-guests during their stay here and the stage is set for some great "bull sessions."

At 4 o'clock today a reception will be held in the house in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Westinghouse and Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Frank.

The chapter was royally entertained at a dinner given last Monday evening. Mrs. Gage was the hostess nad as ever was splendid and charming.

The following old grads have sent in house reservations for Founders Week: Dug Potter, Buzz Buzell, Stan Warner, Carl and Ken Warner.

We expect to have many more with us throughout the week.

KAPPA PHI SIGMA

Kappa Phi Sigma wishes to announce as members: William O'Neal Palmer, Asa Jennings, Donald French, Wilbur Jennings.

Howard Sapp is rapidly recovering from an operation for appendicitis at the Orange General hospital, and is expected to soon be back in the house.

Don spent the week-end exploring the wilds of Melbourne, and Rod went to Sanford.

With orange blossoms on three sides of the house and butterfly blooms on the other the air seems as summery as, Don says, "Je ne sais pas quoi."

The Orr Hudson must have been entirely rebuilt, judging from the old parts Cobb has left laying around the yard. This garage business reminds us of the days of "Paul Revere."

Did you recognize "Lo, the poor Indian," and "Lo's" brother, as Bob Sprague and Rodman?

FOREIGN FELLOWSHIP

The recipients of fellowships must yet be approved by the Institute of International Education through which the fellowships were secured. Harry James has been recommended for a fellowship to Switzerland should another to that country become available. Richard Hayward has been recommended for a position in a French school as an assistant instructor in English.

Fellowships for Rollins students have been made possible through efforts of President Holt. Five foreign students are now studying at Rollins as exchanges for the Rollins fellowships in Europe.

Within the past year Rollins has been placed on the list of American colleges approved by the Institute of International Education, of which Stephen F. Duggan is director.

Applicants for the fellowships numbered nineteen, fifteen of which were senior students, according to Dean Anderson. Four graduates applied.

Only seniors and graduates were eligible to receive fellowships. Other requirements for eligibility included: that the applicant be an American citizen; have good moral character; intellectual ability, and suitable personality; possess good health, an ability to do independent study and research; and have a practical reading, writing, and speaking knowledge of language of instruction in the particular country.

Fellowships are good for one year and must be used in 1929-30. Those who hold them have tuition, room and board paid for one year at a standard foreign college. Traveling and other incidental expenses are not included.

According to Dean Anderson, it is not yet known if fellowships will be offered Rollins students again next year.
